BELGIANS MASTERS OF SITUATION

Germans Repulsed With Heavy Losses Everywhere In Belgium

BRILLIANT DEFENSE OF COUNTRY IS MADE BY THE VALIANT BELGIANS

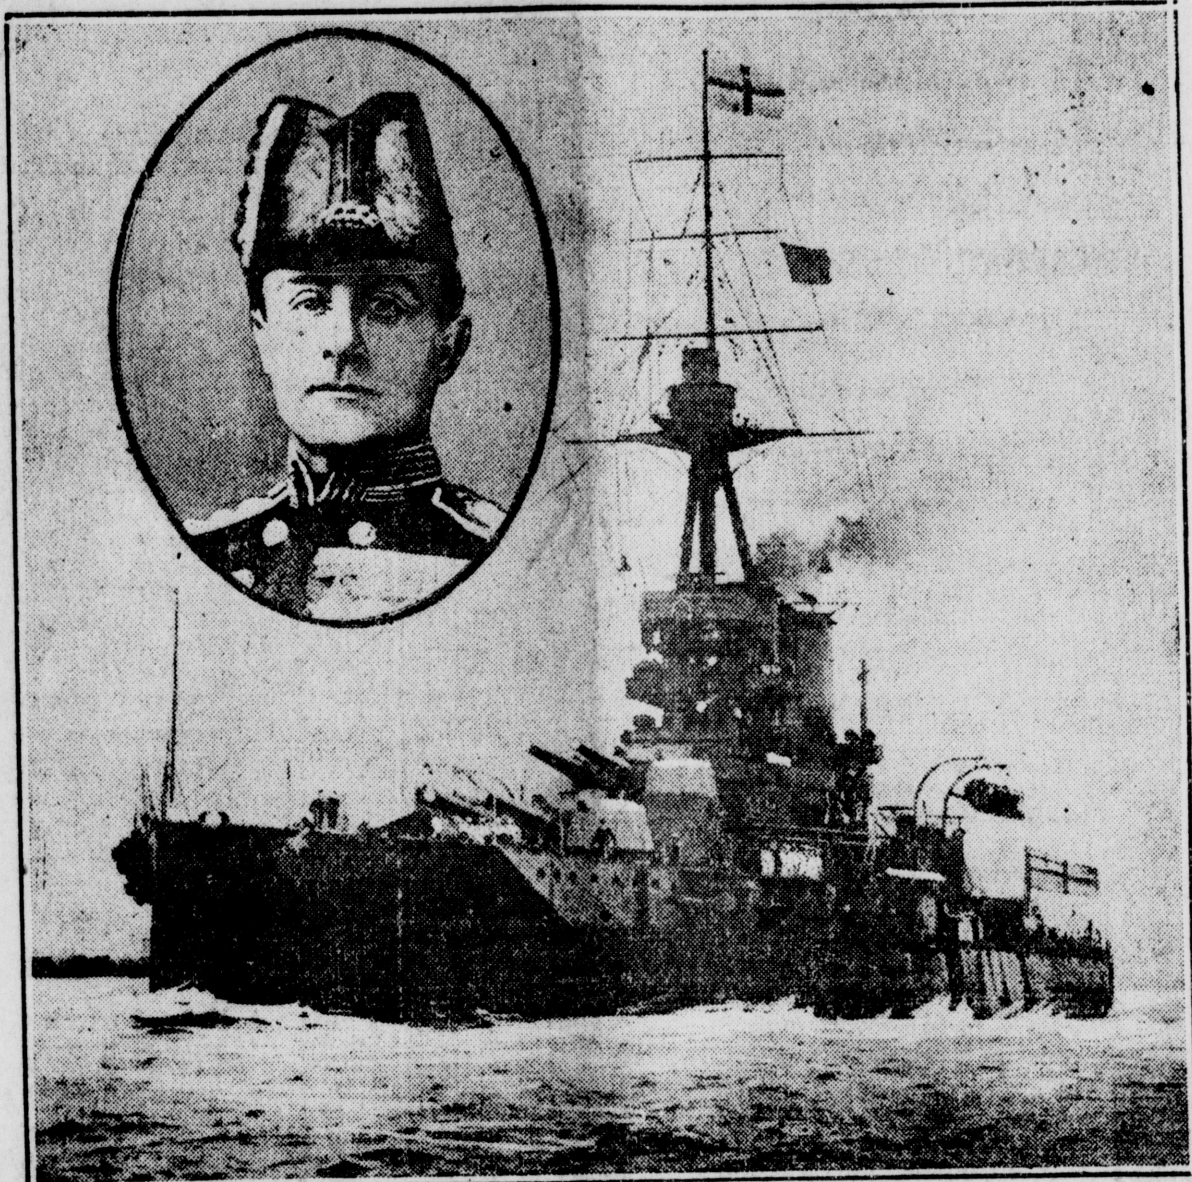

Repulsed Heavy German Attack at Louvain in All-Day Fight--Trapped Germans in Charge on Namur, Taking Prisoners and Guns

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The British War Press Bureau today issued an announcement, claiming overwhelming successes for the allies in Belgium. "On Wednesday," said the News Bureau's account, "six regiments of German cavalry supported by twenty-five hundred infantry troops and a heavy detachment of artillery with machine guns moved against the Belgians, the operations being directed against the Belgian field headquarters at Louvain. Belgian cavalry, similarly supported, opposed the German approach. A fierce fight ensued, lasting all day and covering fifteen miles of territory. War scouts and aviators apprised the Belgians of the enemies' advance. The Belgian defense was well maintained. The enemy was completely disorganized and its cavalry badly cut up. After shelling the approaching German column, the Belgians charged. The German cavalry withdrew and the infantry and artillery were routed. "On Friday morning a German cavalry division supported by infantry and a machine gun division with mounted auto trucks, was trapped by a force from the Belgian fortifications at Namur, sent out to prevent an attack on the forts. The Germans were defeated and driven eastward, the Belgians capturing many prisoners and all the machine guns. Today the Belgians have entire command of the situation. The Germans are repulsed everywhere. The Liege forts are still untaken.

"General Joffree, the French commander bestowed the First Decoration of War on Dragons Corporal Essofly Essofly, and the Legion of Honor on Lieutenant Bruyant of the Dragons, for conspicuous gallantry in action."

IRON DUKE, AFTER GERMANS IN NORTH SEA, AND BRITISH COMMANDER CALLAGHAN

The Iron Duke, the flagship of the British fleet of the North Sea which is believed to be holding the German warships within the Baltic, is the greatest battleship Great Britain owns. She can burn ammunition at the rate of $50,000 a minute, and she is now prowling about the North Sea at the head of the greatest fleet ever assembled in the history of the world.

Her admiral is Sir George Callaghan, commander of the home fleet, but within the past few days Admiral Jellicoe has been made supreme commander of the British vessels of war, and he is now in charge of the operations of the fleet. The Iron Duke is far more powerful than any single vessel in the British navy, perhaps the most powerful man-of-war in the world.

The Iron Duke, the first of the five armored ships of the 1911-12 program to be completed, was laid down at Portsmouth in January, 1912, and finished in January of this year. She was commissioned last March by Captain R. N. Lawson. She is the first British dreadnought to carry six-inch guns behind armor for the repelling of torpedo craft. These weapons throw a 100-pound projectile, and are the largest handled guns in the navy. Precautions have been taken to protect the vessel against overhead attack from dirigibles and aeroplanes, and she has, for example, two 12-pound guns on high angle mountings. Her main armament is ten 13.5-inch guns of the latest kind. She is 620 feet long, nearly 100 feet longer than the original Dreadnought that gave its name to the class.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF

Italian Reservists Ordered Home
BRUSSELS, Aug. 14.—Italian reservists in Belgium have been ordered home for mobilization.

Want Germans Interned
PARIS, Aug. 14.—Charges that the German cavalry have violated Swiss neutrality in attempting to escape from the French in Alsace, were made in a German statement issued today. It is said that France intends to ask Switzerland to act in the matter. The war office holds that wherever combatants are driven into a neutral country they must be disarmed and interned until the end of a war.

Dr. Carrel to French Front
PARIS, Aug. 14.—Dr. Alexis Carrel, the French surgeon, who is well known in New York through his work at the Rockefeller institute, and who was the recipient of the 1912 Nobel prize for medicine, has gone to the front as an army surgeon.

U. S. Neutrality Proclaimed
WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—President Wilson today officially proclaimed American neutrality to England and Austria.

Pursues British Sloop
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Word was brought today by the steamer Queen that the German cruiser Leipzig was one hundred and thirty miles north of the Golden Gate yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, steaming northward at full speed, the Nürnberg following. It is believed they are trying to intercept the British sloop Albatross, which is reported as trying to make a British Columbia port where other British warships have taken refuge.

Austrian Fleet Expects Attack VIENNA, Aug. 14.—Two Austrian warships, blockading the Montenegrin coast, have been withdrawn to aid in resistance to the expected attack on the Austrian fleet by the combined British and French fleets.

Austrians in Russian Poland
LONDON, Aug. 14.—A Vienna dispatch to the Reuters Telegram Company, received by way of Amsterdam, says the Austrian troops have advanced into Russian Poland.

U. P. Head After Best War News
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—President Roy W. Howard of the United Press Associations sailed today on the American liner New York for London and possibly other European cities to investigate the situation regarding the transmission of war news.

Fears for British Ships
VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 14.—The British sloop of war Albatross is expected hourly at Esquimalt near Victoria, where she will join the British war ships Shearwater and Rainbow. Fears are expressed, however, that she may be overtaken by the German cruiser Leipzig before she arrives. It is also feared the Leipzig may slip past Victoria at night, thereby menacing Vancouver. This is impossible in daytime because the harbor line is well mined and fortified. If she approaches in the daytime, a battle is expected. The Canadian-Pacific liner Empress of India is due here tonight from the Orient with a million-dollar silk cargo. It is feared she may run afoul of the German warship.

Americans Flee From War Zone
HAVRE, Aug. 14.—Loaded with Americans the French liner Chicago sailed for New York today, fleeing from the battleground of Europe.

on the financial and commercial situation resulting from the war. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo presided. Various Cabinet officers and members of the Regional Reserve Board attended. J. P. Morgan, James J. Hill and other financiers conferred with the President. McAdoo said that all were optimistic.

Probe Food Prices
WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The Federal grand jury undertook to probe the rise of foodstuffs problem today. Local managers of big packing concerns, markets, wholesale grocers, and hotels were called as witnesses. The President conferred this afternoon with Attorney General McKendall and Secretary of Commerce Redfield, who are directing the government probe.

STARVATION AS RESULT HIGH PRICES

New York East Side Hit Hard; Chicago Prices Soar; Halt of Prices in England

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Food prices are soaring today with the result of many suffering on the East Side. Many are actually starving. The price of milk has advanced half a cent although no one is able to offer a reason for the advance. Loaves of bread have been reduced one ounce and a half. Many restaurants have increased their prices.

Chicago Prices Rise
CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—In spite of President Wilson's order for a sweeping investigation of the sudden rise in the cost of living, the price of foodstuffs scored another advance yesterday. Almost all staples showed slight increases. Sugar, now at 8 cents, is expected to reach 15 cents a pound, and coffee and tea steadily advanced. Expert prediction was made that the United States faces an egg shortage and that eggs at 50 cents a dozen are a near possibility. The board of directors of the Women's party of Cook county yesterday adopted resolutions demanding imprisonment for "price boosters."

England is Drastic
LONDON, Aug. 14.—The British government, having successfully coped with the attempt to raise the price of food, announces that certain drugs, the supply of which is limited, and the price of which has been raised, in some instances 50 per cent by the wholesale dealers, will be taken possession of if exorbitant prices are charged.

AERIAL POLICE SQUAD
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 14.—This city's aerial police squad practiced today at the Griffith Park aerodrome. Four patrolmen, who volunteered for the service, comprise the squad. They are being instructed by professional aviators who form an aerial police reserve. The regular squad will be doubled in December.

STEADY ADVANCE FORTS OF LIEGE CLAIMED BY GERMANS YET REMAIN UNTAKEN

Declare Back Move of Russia and Polish Evacuation Aided War Program

EXPECTING DECISIVE BATTLE AT NAMUR FORTS

Claim Vanguard on French Soil Has Captured Outer Fort at Longwy

SEATTLE, Aug. 14.—The Washington Staats Zeitung, in German, published today the following dispatch from Berlin via the German embassy at Washington:

"Mobilization goes ahead according to program, favored by a backward movement of the Russians and the evacuation of Poland. The North German army, after partly taking Liege with heavy losses, advances to Trier and Namur and a decisive battle is expected there soon. The fall of the forts is only a question of a few days. The vanguard of our armies is on French soil in contact with the enemy. The outer fort at Longwy was captured. The French corps at Belfort was driven back to Vosges Range by the Fourteenth Baden Corps. A Japanese attack on Kiaotsou is immediately expected."

Germans Claim Advance
BERLIN (delayed and censored). Aug. 14.—Germany's advance on the French frontier is proceeding as planned. German losses were anticipated. The forward movement continues along the lines that the general staff selected. The fact that it continues on toward Paris shows the claims of German disasters to be unfounded. French and Belgian prisoners are held in concentration camps. Details of the position of the German army were not made known.

CASH IS NOW PROVIDED FOR AMERICANS ABROAD

NE YORK, Aug. 14.—J. P. Morgan & Company have received the following cablegram from Morgan, Harjes & Company, their Paris house:

"Please announce that we have made arrangements to meet financial requirements of all properly accredited Americans throughout France. We have also sent five hundred thousand francs in gold to Switzerland for use of Americans there and hope our agent, the Credit Suisse, will also be able to help out in Italy."

600 INDIANS DIE ON MINED FIELD AT MAZATLAN, MEX.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—One of the bloodiest battles in the Mexican revolution was reported today by Admiral Howard at Mazatlan. A regiment of 800 Indians, he said, charged a mined field under fort artillery. Six hundred were killed and 178 wounded. The result of the battle was not stated.

SUGAR COST SOARS TO $8.05--PROBE IS ON IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 14.—The investigation of food prices under a Department of Justice order began today. Wholesale sugar prices today are: Cane, $8.05; beet, $7.85 per hundredweight.

Belgians Clear German Cavalry From Country West of Hasselt to Ramillies

ENEMY DRIVEN BACK FROM BRUSSELS ADVANCE

10,000 German Casualties Within Few Days—Gen. Von Emmich Reported Suicide

BRUSSELS, Aug. 14.—The War Office issued the announcement this afternoon that the Liege forts are still holding out against the Germans. It denied the Amsterdam report that the Germans had stormed fort Pontin and declared that the German cavalry had been cleared from all the country west of the line from Hasselt to Ramillies. If this is true, it means the Germans have been driven back twenty miles from the farthest advance towards Brussels.

Von Emmich Reported Suicide
Persistent reports have been circulated here that General Von Emmich, commanding the Germans in Belgium, committed suicide yesterday after receiving a rebuke given by the general war staff for his manner of conducting the siege of Liege. The report remained unconfirmed tonight. It is believed to have originated with German prisoners brought in today.

Enemy's Advance Checked
BRUSSELS, Aug. 14.—The war office today issued another statement claiming that the German advance had been checked throughout Belgium. The war office said the German cavalry renewed its raids at scores of Belgian points but that all failed because the Belgian aeroplanes gave warning of their approach.

Wounded Belgians and Germans are streaming into Brussels today. Many staggered in afoot. The Red Cross brought others in ambulances and automobiles. The hospitals were quickly swamped and many private houses were requisitioned.

German casualties in the last few days of fighting exceeded 10,000 in addition to 5000 captured, the war office claimed. The allies' main positions are still kept secret.

WOMAN OFFERS BAD CHECK TO LOCAL BANKER

Told Officers She Came Here to Try to Raise Fifty Dollars

A woman who says her name is Mrs. Paine today walked into the First National Bank and presented a check for $50 to which the name of Alex. Jeffrey was signed. Andrew Getty of the bank told the woman that the signature was a forgery. The woman left the bank, and City Marshal Jernigan was notified. He and Officer Lacy caught the woman as she was aboard a car bound to Los Angeles. She told the officers that she had torn the check up. She said she came here to raise $50, and said she had never been in Santa Ana before. She said she worked on the Jeffrey ranch near San Fernando. The woman was taken to the sheriff's office, where she was searched. The check was not found, and only a few cents in money.

POWER OVER LONGEST DISTRIBUTING LINE

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 14.—Power was sent over what is claimed to be the longest electric distributing line in the world last night, when Bishop Creek and El Centro were connected by the formal closing of the main line switch here.

The line is six hundred miles long and is the first electric power service for Imperial and Coachella valleys.

RUMOR OF SINKING OF 4 BRITISH WAR SHIPS BY GERMANS

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The Staats Zeitung this morning published a report that four British dreadnaughts and six cruisers have been sunk in the Humber on the east coast of England as a result of an attack on the British fleet by sixty German torpedo boats. According to the report, which the Staats Zeitung says was received by one of the biggest shipping firms in the city, nineteen of the German torpedo boats were destroyed in the engagement.

News and Comment Tustin Budget Edited by Miss Florence Stone

NEW SCHOOL HOUSE PLAN UNDER WAY

Excavation Completed; Pouring for Footings Finished; Carpenters Soon Busy

The work of excavating for Tustin's new school house is all done. The pouring for footings is practically complete and the next work to be done is to start a crew of form carpenters for the basement floor. A ground space of 192 by 150 feet will be occupied by the school when completed.

The main auditorium and classrooms will combine to give a seating capacity of 700. The basement or first floor will be of concrete, the main floor of granite-faced brick.

The basement includes a bicycle room, sloyd room, a domestic science and lunch room. A heating system will change the air in the rooms at frequent intervals.

The main entrance will face D street, close to which will be the principal's and teachers' rooms, and directly back of these the auditorium.

There will be two or more classrooms, a kindergarten room, library and rest room.

The general style of plan is an H-shaped basement and one-story building, giving the advantages of an easy entrance and exit and an abundance of light and air.

One of the most pleasing features of the school will be that both the front and back views of the structure will be equally as attractive to passersby.

BEGINNING TOMATO HARVEST

The Haven Seed Company is preparing to harvest tomatoes for seed. Their tomatoes are all planted on the home place this year and can be more conveniently prepared for market. The prospects are good for a fine crop.

EDITORIAL

THE RECALL OF MAIL

One of the peculiarities of the United States postal regulations little understood by the general public is that the sender is owner of his letter until it is correctly delivered.

The postmaster of one of the larger cities says: "Hardly a day passes but that some distressed person is made happy by learning that a letter can be recalled. It quite frequently happens that a person writes or mails a letter in the heat of passion and suffers mental agony in ignorance of the fact that the letter is still under his control until delivered to the addressee. On the other hand a business proposition may be incorrectly stated. A person may refuse by letter an offer to purchase or sell and after mature deliberation decide that he has made a mistake and would rather do that which he did not do if he could only stop the delivery of his letter."

Letter carriers cannot under any circumstances return letters that have come into their hands in the regular way, but application must be made to the postmaster.

If the person is not known to the postmaster he may be required to give a sample of his handwriting or an address written in the same hand as that upon the matter asked for, or some information which will identify him as the sender.

If the sender desires the return of mail matter after it has gone from the office in which it was mailed, in order to avoid any fraud or impartiality, an application is filled out stating the reasons for such request. It may be necessary for the postmaster to telegraph the postmaster at the office of address to withhold it, the telegram to be paid for by the sender.

The printed blank when filed out requests the return of such mail, gives the date, name and address and a description of the parcel and gives reasons why it should not be delivered. It also states that if returned applicant will protect the postmaster from any claims made against him for such return and further states: "I herewith deposit $— to cover all expenses incurred and will deliver you the envelope or wrapper of the letter (or other article) returned."

So he who does not care to go through with a little red tape had better think twice before sending a doubtful letter or parcel.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

The Tustin "Y's"

The members of the Tustin Y are urged to come to their regular meeting tonight, which is to be at the home of Miss Emma Awe. It is a very important meeting and as many as possible are urged to attend. A special collection is to be taken.

At Mr. Shatto's Tonight

The friends of prohibition are requested to meet Mr. Raymond, the temperance worker who has been touring the northern part of the state, at Mr. W. L. Shatto's residence in Tustin, tonight. He has some information of importance to impart.

Birthday Cake

A beautiful birthday cake was made at the Tustin bakery on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. M. E. Lindsey's birthday. Several friends were there when the cake was cut and helped to enjoy it.

Touring the North

Mr. and Mrs. John Holt are taking an automobile trip through California. They started two weeks ago with all necessary equipment to spend several months and have been heard from at San Luis Obispo and other points. They are enjoying their trip immensely.

Attend County Meeting

Mrs. Sarah Brown, Mrs. Thomas Rawlings, Mrs. W. G. Mitchell and Mrs. J. O. Preble composed a party who attended the county executive meeting of the W.C.T.U. held at Anaheim Thursday.

Mrs. Emma Colgan, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Preble, Ross and Horace Shafter motored over Thursday evening to attend the entertainment given by the Anaheim W.C.T.U. An enjoyable feature of the evening was Miss Margaret McGee's whistling and readings by her little sister.

Young Men Entertained

The large class of boys of the Tustin Advent Christian church Sunday school were entertained by their teacher, Harry Hanson, in Santa Ana, Wednesday night. He took them to a plunge and afterward they had a fine lunch. The boys report a splendid time.

At Fullerton

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lambert, Miss Gertrude Lambert and Mrs. D. McDonald are attending a dinner party at Fullerton today which is given by Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lambert of that place.

Coreopsis Club

The members of the Coreopsis Club enjoyed one of their pleasant afternoons together on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. R. C. Lambert. These ladies make a study of fancy work and many works of art are beginning for Christmas time. These far-seeing ladies are looking ahead. Several of their number are also musicians and these are called upon at the meetings to entertain the others.

The ladies present at this meeting were Mesdames Ann Schwartz, William Collar, Elizabeth Hart, Ed Smith, Ida King, John King, C. O. Artz, Fenlon Matthews, H. E. Matthews, J. H. Stearns and Miss Avis Smith.

Delicious pineapple sherbet and cake were served. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. William Collar.

PALMER RANCH SOLD

The ranch of Mr. F. E. Palmer, whose house burned to the ground several months ago, was sold this week to Chris Noe of Santa Ana. Mr. Noe intends to put a new house on the place and make his home there.

COMPARISON OF DRY TOWN AND WET ONE

Demonstration is to Be Made in Living Characters on August 25

Preparations are under way to make the next meeting of the Tustin Dry Federation a very interesting and instructive one. A demonstration of the difference between a dry town and one that is not, will be given in living characters besides the usual talks and singing by a chorus choir. The date of the next meeting is the night of the last Tuesday in the month (August 25) and it will be held in the Presbyterian church.

It is deemed of the greatest importance, among the friends of the "California Dry" movement that all those who seek success for the "Dry" forces, attend this and all future meetings before the election. So every one interested is urged to be present at the coming interesting meeting.

TUSTIN PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGinnis of Fremont, Neb., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Suddaby, will spend several weeks in Long Beach before returning to the East. Mr. McGinnis is general manager of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Mount are visiting in Los Angeles this week.

MISS SHATTO'S WAR EXPERIENCE

Miss Ethel Shatto, who has been studying in Germany for the past year, is expected home in a few days. She expects to land in Galveston today. She has had exciting experiences on board a German steamer.

In a letter written on board ship to her father, Mr. W. L. Shatto, she says: "About six days ago we received news of the declaration of war between Austria and Serbia. Since then all telegraphic dispatches have been withheld from the passengers and the greatest excitement prevails. There are said to be sixty Austrian deserters on board and Russians, Serbs, etc., in the steerage, who might cause trouble were the state of affairs known. Most of the cabin passengers are Germans and all those of serviceable age are expected to be turned back. No doubt you know by this time what the state of affairs is. We don't know; the captain and the wireless operator keep their own counsel and the wildest conjectures result; the captain has not appeared at the table for five days—he doesn't wish to be questioned. Last night the deck lights were all turned off and the lights on the mast did not appear. We went to bed early and I was scarcely in my cabin when the steward appeared and said that all lights should be out. People say we are so near the Canadian coast that the captain fears capture by an English cruiser. You see most of the passengers are Germans, many of whom would be soldiers in the

AUTO CLUB IS AWAITING PAPERS

Certificate to Do Insurance Business Expected to Arrive Soon

Subscribers to the insurance department of the Automobile Club of Orange county will be interested to know that the delay in writing business is not chargeable to the account of the management.

Application was made to the Insurance Commissioner of the state on July 14th for certificate of authority to do business.

Secretary A. S. Ralph reports that he is in receipt of a letter from Commissioner Phelps under date of August 12, stating that he hopes to be able to get his examiner here very soon to make the necessary examination preliminary to the issuance of the certificate.

Mr. Phelps states that his department has been very busy checking up several concerns which are in a shaky condition, and the examiners have been working night and day to catch up, and asks that the club be patient with him and he will do the best he can with the limited force with which he is permitted to operate his department.

The affairs of the new organization are in such state of completion that the only delay necessary after the receipt of proper certificate of authority, to operate an insurance department, will be the time required to print the policies and form necessary to transact the business of the club.

The cordial reception with which the insurance plan of the club has been received by the automobile operators of the county indicates that it will be but a short time before more than half of the owners of the county will be enrolled in its membership. There are already more than twice the number which the Auto Club of Southern California had at the time it applied for license for their department.

Orange County Interested in Project to Collect From Railroads

* Riverside Press: Legal steps
* are to be taken by the Tri-County
* Freight Bureau to collect the * thousands of dollars due the ship* pers of Riverside, San Bernardino * and Orange counties collected by
* the three railroads of Southern * California on what is known as
* the "back haul" from Los Ange* les.
* The committee has decided to * consult with legal advisors as to * what action to take and it is * quite likely that this matter will * be found in the courts before
* many days if the representatives * of the railroads do not come into
* conference soon with a view of
* settling this claim.

F. P. Younglove Makes Report
At last night's meeting of the Riverside Business Men's Association this was the most important matter brought before the members. F. P.
Younglove, who represented Riverside on the committee, made his report of the action of the committee and in a nutshell the action of this committee was a decision to take legal steps to collect from the railroads all the "back haul" freight money collected since the interstate commerce commission declared the charge illegal.

It appears that the railroads are endeavoring to sidetrack the matter.
A meeting was to have been held with representatives of the three roads at San Bernardino on August 7, but this was postponed at the request of the roadmen and August 12 was the date set. On this date the railroad men failed to appear and asked for a further continuance.

This committee did not feel like granting, and as a result the committee is now in conference with legal advisors as to what steps to take in order to collect this money due the shippers from the date of the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission two years ago.

The railroads put up a hard battle against this piece of legislation on the part of the commission, carrying the matter up to the Supreme Court of the United States. The highest court of the land has passed favorably on the matter, upholding the decision of the commission.

The Interstate Commerce Commission gave its decision two years ago.
From that time up to the present time, or up to the date of handing down of the opinion by the Supreme Court the shippers of the three counties, through their legal advisors, will make a hard fight to collect the thousands of dollars illegally collected by the railroads.

TWENTY-FOUR MOTOR TRUCKS ON ENDURANCE RUN PASSED THROUGH SANTA ANA TODAY

Twenty-four motor trucks entered in the Motor Truck Dealers' reliability run from Los Angeles via Santa Ana and Ontario to Riverside and return via Ontario and Pasadena were in Santa Ana two or three hours this morning, leaving at noon.
There were trucks of various makes and sizes, and most of them came through in good condition.

The first car was No. 13, a White, with a ton and a half of iron aboard.
It left Los Angeles at 6:20 o'clock and got here in two hours and ten minutes by way of Wilmington. The White people took the view that speed as well as ability to get through on little gasoline ought to be of some consequence, and they started in to cover ground. The speed limit was smashed considerably.

No. 23, a larger White than No. 13, was also here with the leaders in good scores. These trucks kept track of their water temperature. No. 13 got here with water at 110 degrees and No.
23 at 120 degrees.

John W. Tubbs, manager of the Santa Ana Commercial Company, was at the corner of Second and Main streets as official checker. He received the carous from each official observer as the trucks came in, and gave them back again when the cars pulled out at the word from the starter, City Marshal Jernigan. Hal McCollough and H. D. Connell assisted Tubbs in the checking.

and You Breathe Freely.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it. Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.
End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils:

GERANIUMS TO BE READY AUG. 15

Large Supply to Be Distributed to Expected Big Crowds

PHOTOGRAPHS TO BE TAKEN AT GARDENS

Committee Chairman Urges All to Boost Project to Success

"We will have a big supply of the geranium plants ready for delivery and will have men on hand to dig more plants should the demand justify it," said H. T. Rutherford, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee having in charge the geranium garden, today. "There will be from 15,000 to 18,000 of the plants ready on Geranium Day, Wednesday, Aug. 19.
"We will be ready to give out the slips at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of August 19. Judging from the interest that has already been displayed there will be a splendid crowd on hand to help give this big booster movement a send-off.

"Those wishing to help beautify the city by planting geraniums in their curbings should see to it that the plots of ground are suitably prepared.
The geranium committee will greatly appreciate all persons making correct estimates as to the number of plants they will need. The number of plants required can be arrived at easily by allowing a space of 18 to 20 inches between the slips. This space will be ample, I think.

"This geranium planting project has attracted attention all over the United States. I would like enough people to turn out on August 19 to take away the entire 18,000 plants we will have ready.

"The Park Commission and the Chamber of Commerce have gone to considerable expense to propagate the geraniums. However, the money will have been well spent if all Santa Ana interest themselves sufficiently in the movement and afterwards care for the geraniums.

"So certain are we that local people have the civic pride to help make this geranium planting a tremendous success that we have arranged to have a photographer on hand to take pictures of the crowds coming for the slips on the afternoon of August 19.
It is our intention to have a slide made of one of the pictures and to send it to D. W. McDannald, Orange county lecturer at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

"All should remember to bring receptacles for the plants. Any sort of pasteboard box or basket will do."

Square Deal Inspires Confidence

—as confidence is the keynote to a successful business, it follows that the merchant who has confidence in the superiority of his merchandise can best inspire confidence with his patrons.

—Shrewd buyers do not measure the reliability of a store by the catch-penny methods it may practice; neither do the less shrewd go on making the same mistake over and over.

The patrons of this store are composed of keen, wide-awake people, who are best able to buy dependable goods, who recognize and appreciate the value of goods of high character, and are capable of knowing they are the best investment after all.

—the result obtained in buying here always proves most satisfactory and inspires a greater confidence in our store.

We do not lead in mere cheap prices but we do lead in giving the best values at every price.

—our patrons are alert and progressive men, women and children who want to best keep in touch with the good things that are being offered to shoppers in Santa Ana.

Goods coming through this store come through a channel that none can doubt their reliability or this store's responsibility.

In conclusion we desire to direct your attention

COUNTY OFFICERS ON ALL BALLOTS

In spite of the efforts that have been made to explain the new plan of nomination and election of county officers, there still seems to be considerable misunderstanding regarding the situation. Following are the essential facts as summarized by the Riverside Press:

All county officers are now non-partisan and all who have been nominated by the petition system will have their names in a non-partisan column on all the ballots of all parties—Progressive, Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and Socialist.

In addition to the party ballots there will be a special non-partisan ballot for the voters who "decline to state" their party allegiance. For the first time in the political history of the state these voters will participate in the nominating primary.

The votes for county officers on all ballots will be tallied and in case any candidate receives a majority of all votes cast, he is practically elected then and there, for his name will be the only one appearing on the general ballot in the November election. In case two or more candidates are competing and no one receives a clear majority at the primary, the two highest will run again in November. If only two are running for any office the contest will be settled at the primary and the primary vote is therefore doubly important.

The law contemplates that the contest for judicial and county officers shall be strictly non-partisan; and any candidate or any supporter of a candidate who is seeking to inject partisan politics into the county campaign is violating the spirit of the law. The contest should be on the merits of the men and voters should make their choice on this basis alone. No party designations will appear after the names of the county candidates and the ballots will give no clew whatever as to their political affiliations. An election on the question of efficiency and personal fitness ought to ensure a competent and independent set of county officers.

UGHT TO COMPARE FIGURES

The wine makers of the state are publishing broadcast to the world that the adoption of the dry amendment would throw 75,000 persons out of employment. P. H. McCarthy and Olaf Tveitmo, of the Building Trades Council of California, in their prosaloon argument, state that the dry amendment would throw 282,000 men out of employment. According to the United States census of 1910, there are but 54,579 men employed in the manufacture of fermented liquors and 6430 employed in the manufacture of distilled liquors, making a grand total of 61,009 men so employed in the entire United States. The booze statisticians ought to hold a convention and agree on something.

WAR AND COMMERCE

The foreign trade and business relations of the United States would have been much less interrupted could Europe have adopted the American principle of exemption of private property from capture at sea in war.

At the Hague conference of 1907, the American delegation made a plea for such exemption from capture. This principle has always been advocated by our government. France, Great Britain, Russia, Japan, and other governments opposed it at the Hague, and it was beaten.

In more barbarous times, wives and children were captured and sold into slavery, cities were burned, and non-combatants put to the sword.

Gradually these wicked customs have been refined, as respects the lives and freedom of non-combatants, and as respects property on land. Even in a country so backward and reactionary as Mexico, non-combatants have mostly been safe, and destruction of private property has been at least the exception.

Yet in the matter of capture of private property at sea, the old archaic principles of ancient warfare yet prevail in all their barbarism. The warriors may be too cultured to attack women and children. Yet they will capture the food supplies that would keep those women and children from starvation. They will seize the materials of manufacture that would permit a country to maintain its economic existence.

Nothing is gained by these survivals of savage practices. History shows few instances where nations have been overpowered by blows at

Eshleman on Double Nominations and Non-partisan Candidacy

BY JOHN M. ESHLEMAN

President State Railroad Commission and Candidate For Lieutenant-Governor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—Partisanship in California politics is dead, and the state campaign of 1914 will be a straight-out fight for or against Governor Johnson, declares John M. Eshleman, whose name is on the Progressive and Republican ballots for lieutenant governor, in a statement issued today.

Eshleman, outlining his attitude, announces that he never suggested to any member of the Republican or Democratic parties that his name be placed on their ballot. He says he will not support the candidates of the old parties or contribute to their campaign fund. The statement declares: "When, some time ago, I was urged to permit my name to be placed on the primary ballot of other parties, under the terms of the primary law, I stated my attitude definitely to those discussing the matter with me. While I will enter into no controversy over this matter, yet I believe it proper, before the primaries take place, to make my position very plain also to the voters of all parties, to the end that no one shall vote for me in the primary election in ignorance of my real attitude."

FIRST. I have never sought to be the candidate of any party for lieutenant governor. For some time it has been apparent that I could not much longer continue the arduous work as president of the Railroad Commission. When my determination to retire at the end of my term this year became known, Progressives throughout the entire state demanded that I be their candidate for lieutenant governor, and I consented. If I believed in justice to myself I could continue my work on the commission I should do so, for I prefer it to any other public work.

SECOND. I have never suggested, directly or indirectly, to any member of either the Republican party or the Democratic party that my name be placed on their ballot. I have not contributed one cent to that end.

EVERYTHING THAT HAS BEEN DONE BY MEMBERS OF OTHER PARTIES IN MY BEHALF HAS BEEN DONE VOLUNTARILY ON THEIR PART.

THIRD. The spirit as well as the letter of the direct primary law permits electors of one party to select as their candidate a member of another party. This is no new thing. It has been practiced extensively in the past under the convention system, and WAS THEN APPROVED BY THE VERY MEN WHO NOW CONDEMN IT. As a part of the direct primary act this provision has my entire approval. I have appealed to the members of the Legislature, too, for we had it approved unanimously in the Assembly. Democrats, standpat Republicans, Progressives all voting for it. ONLY TWO VOTES WERE CAST AGAINST IT IN THE SENATE, WRIGHT, REPUBLICAN, AND JULLIARD, DEMOCRAT, HAVING SUCH DISTINCTION. OF THE ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY MEMBERS IN BOTH HOUSES ONLY TWO REGISTERED THEIR DISAPPROVAL. THEN WHY HAS IT NOW BECOME SO? THE DEMOCRATS AND STANDPAT REPUBLICANS WHO DID NOT OPPOSE IT THEN MAY BE ABLE TO ANSWER.

FOURTH. I have absolutely no party fealty independent of fealty to the principles for which a party stands. Today the Progressive party represents economic prosperity. Besieged cities always eat horse flesh rather than submit. It is only by direct attack on fighting power that war can win. The subjection of the commerce of the world to the terror of naval at-sents the principles I believe in. I, therefore, am a Progressive. I shall remain a Progressive so long as that party is striving to accomplish governmental things in which I believe.

FIFTH. One and all the candidates of the old parties, forgetting their ancient feud, are bearing false witness against and seeking to discredit an administration I know to be honest and efficient, and a governor who has fulfilled every pledge. They, apparently with the approval of their party organizations, have made the issue, and the issue is "Shall the present administration be approved or repudiated?" While in their hearts is the desire they dare not openly express for the return of the old order and the victory of the old corrupt machine; while these candidates raise the partisan cry; in reality the issue they have made is strictly personal, AND I DEFEAT ANYONE TO POINT TO A SINGLE UTTERANCE OF A SINGLE CANDIDATE SEEKING TO DISCREDIT THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION THAT RAISES A PARTY ISSUE.

Believing this to be the issue and their design, no number of nominations and no amount of support from other parties will affect by attitude in the slightest. My friends in the other parties have a right to know now before the primaries that I shall proceed after the primaries just as I have before. I shall not support the candidates of the old parties. I shall not contribute to their campaign funds. I shall, of course, not participate in their councils. These candidates, pretending partisanship and raising a personal issue, hope to accomplish their end by an appeal to blind partisanship. These party patriots cry out for party regularity only to accomplish their personal ends.

Have the people so soon forgotten the old days—yes even the very recent days—when these same party patriots betrayed not only their party but their state as well? When some of these very candidates for office as public officials and members of the Legislature not only did not raise their hand against corruption that then was, but were a very part of it? And these are the men now so critical of the political morals of some of the rest of us, vaunting their own virtue and shuddering at the awful sin of permitting the rank and file of a party to vote for a member of another party? Well may such as they lament that partisanship as they knew it and abused it is dead. Well may they be appalled at the prospect of a people selecting officials on their merits. HE WHO BEGS FOR VOTES BECAUSE OF HIS PARTISANSHIP THEREBY CONFESSES HIS INABILITY TO GET VOTES BY REASON OF HIS MERIT.

I have served the people of this state long enough for them to be familiar with my record. If my record does not merit their approval I should not be elected to office. If my kind of service is not the kind of service the people of this state desire, then it is for them to dismiss me from their service. BUT IT IS FOR THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA TO DO THIS, AND I DENY THE RIGHT OF ANY PARTY BOSS OR TIME-SERVING, DISCREDITED, POLITICAL HACKS TO SAY WHO SHALL BE PUBLIC OFFICIALS IN THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

COTTON FUTURES BILL NOW UP TO PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—The Senate agreed yesterday to the conference report on the cotton futures bill, which the House already had approved.

The measure, which now goes to the president, places a tax of two cents a pound on all cotton sold for future delivery except under contracts based on the government's standardization of cotton grades.

To Prevent Irons Rusting

Irons treated in the following manner can be kept in excellent condition: Tie a lump of beeswax in a thin white rag. When the irons are hot, rub them with the rag and then scour with a cloth sprinkled with salt. After the ironing is finished and the irons are still warm, rub the wax over them, and it will keep them smooth and free from rust. If a brick which has been heated in the oven is used for an ironing stand, the irons will be found to keep hot much longer than if an ordinary iron stand is used.

Time for Bird Study

In the last ten years the little company of students of bird life has grown into an army. Everywhere the birds are interesting, but not everywhere can they be seen and studied to equal advantage. This month marks the height of the tide of the spring migration. The schoolroom has not walls and the sky is its ceiling. Now is the time to study.—Chicago Post.

A TIME TO REFRAIN FROM EMBRACING

(AUTHORIZED PUBLICITY)

King Solomon, the wise man, said, "There is a time to embrace and a time to refrain from embracing."

That piece of wisdom is especially applicable just now in Santa Ana. The people of this city have undertaken to raise their share of money needed in the campaign now on to "Make California Dry."

It is very important that this money be provided at once and before the real battle for votes begins. We must not call for money at campaign meets.

If you really want this cause to win on November third, "show your faith by your works."

This is the "time to embrace." We hope to end these appeals for money after next WEDNESDAY when there will be a whirlwind canvass of the whole city in one day for this purpose, and then—if we realize our expectations—will come the time Solomon referred to, "A time to refrain from embracing—the opportunity to give more money for the 'War Fund.'"

"CALIFORNIA DRY" COMMITTEE For Santa Ana.

CITY TALKLETS

"Drug prices are still soaring," said E. T. Mateer, the druggist, today. "We are totally unable to pay aspirin, one of the most used drugs in our business. Menthol went up to $16 per pound during the Russo-Japanese war and it is quite likely to reach that price again during the present European war. Camphor and glycerine which are both used in the manufacture of smokeless powder and nitroglycerine, respectively, are tremendously advanced in prices. There is a big shortage in citric acid. There is hardly a prescription filled but contains some sort of imported drug. The Brunwig Drug Company of Los Angeles has notified us that all quotations are withdrawn and that such offers as the company may make are only valid from day to day, subject to stock on hand. The Western Wholesale Drug Company has also notified us that prices are changing rapidly, but are strictly in keeping with quotations received daily by wire from manufacturers and importers. The Western Company also states that if we do not receive the quantities ordered it is because the company is short of supplies."

"Sole leather went up 10 per cent yesterday," said H. D. Connell, manager of the Turner Shoe Company, today. "Of course, leather has been advancing steadily of late years and it is doubtful if yesterday's advance was caused by the European war. The production of hides in 1913 was 1,250,000 short of the preceding year. The European war is certain to cause a raise in the prices of patent colt and Russia leathers."

Surprise Cake

Sift two even cups of sifted flour with two even teaspoons of cream tartar and one of soda into mixing dish. Place the white of one egg in a large bowl, beat to a stiff froth, add one-half cupful melted (not hot) butter, one cupful of milk. Beat smooth, then flavor with your favorite extract, add contents of bowl to those in dish and beat vigorously. A hot oven is needed (350 degrees if you have an oven thermometer).

For Piemakers

A saltspoonful of baking powder put in the meringue for pies, just before the meringue is placed on the pie will keep it from falling as soon as the pie is removed from the hot oven, as so often happens.

Summer Constipation Dangerous

Constipation in summer-time is more dangerous than in the fall, winter or spring. The food you eat is often contaminated and is more likely to ferment in your stomach. Then you are apt to drink much cold water during the hot weather, thus injuring your stomach. Colic, Fever, Ptoimaine Poisoning and other ills are natural results. Po-Do-Lax will keep you well as it increases the flow of the natural laxative, which rids the bowels of the congested poisonous waste. Po-Do-Lax will make you feel better. Pleasant and effective. Take a dose today. 50c at your Druggist.—Advertisement.

LET US OWN WHAT WE PAY FOR

Van Wyck's Talks For Governor.

This is my fourth talk upon State Storage Reservoirs for flood waters, for the making of cheap electric power and for cheap and plentiful water for irrigation. This is the BIG PLANK in my platform for election as Governor. Yesterday I said I would tell why the STATE should build the storage reservoirs.

It is simple. If you bought a house and paid for it, wouldn't you want to own it? Well, the same thing holds good here. Light and power companies heretofore have done this work—not with their own money, but with money borrowed from the public. Out of the rates paid by the public, the corporations set aside enough to pay back all the borrowed money. Thus the people pay, but the corporations own.

Now, because the people pay, THE PEOPLE SHOULD OWN. Then, let the State build these reservoirs, with bonds—not with taxes, but with money borrowed from the people. In that event, the people pay—and the people own. Besides the State can borrow faster and at lower rates of interest than corporations. The State reservoirs would be built sooner and cost less, and water power would be cheaper. The reservoirs would earn their cost.

Some few reservoirs have been built at great expense by farmers, forming Irrigation Districts. But as all the State gains by the building of the reservoirs, it is not fair to expect the farmers to do it; and in nearly all cases, it is not possible for the farmers to raise the money.

So I say, elect as Governor the man who will build the reservoirs and bring prosperity.

Tomorrow, I shall draw a pen picture of California, after the State Reservoirs are built.

SIDNEY M. van WYCK, Jr. of San Francisco. Candidate for Governor of California (Democratic Nomination)

W. C. T. U. WOMEN MEET

Executive Board at Anaheim; Fine Entertainment Was Heard in Evening

The Orange County W. C. T. U. Executive Board held its quarterly executive meeting yesterday in Anaheim at 10 o'clock in the Methodist church. Mrs. F. J. Rogers, county president, was in the chair, and representatives from nearly all the unions were present. Mrs. Crone of Anaheim, led a very impressive devotional service. The morning session was taken up by the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the general routine of business. The treasurer's report, given by Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, showed a balance of $77.50.

A number of the campaign songs were sung. Mrs. C. H. Owen presiding at the organ. It was announced that Mrs. Laura B. Stokes, a very noted W. C. T. U. speaker and state organizer, will tour Orange county for one week beginning September 1. Much time was spent in arranging and planning the route for Mrs. Stokes in order that the greatest benefit might be derived from this noted speaker's visit.

Adjournment was made at noon for lunch, which was served in the Sunday school room of the church. At 1:30 the institute was called together by the president, Mrs. F. J. Rogers. Mrs. Owen presided. Campaign songs were sung. Mrs. Phillips presiding at the organ, and Mrs. Mitchell leading the singing. An excellent reading was given by Miss Gladys Gervais, followed by a song by the audience, "California is Going Dry."

Rev. C. H. Sutherland of Anaheim, gave a very stirring address on making "California Dry." Mr. Sutherland is known all over Orange county as one of the strongest workers in trying to make California dry at the coming election. He gave some astounding figures on what the money expended in liquor would do if used for other purposes. Mrs. W. B. Tedford gave one of her fine talks on scientific temperance instruction and also exhibited some of the posters made by the intermediate schools of the city, that bring this liquor question vividly before the people. Rev. Daniels, pastor of the Christian church of Anaheim, made a splendid talk on the grape industry of some of the counties in Northern California, where so small a price is being paid for the grapes and where many people are taking out the grapes and putting in apples. Mr. Daniels possesses a fine voice and sang, "Twins Run that Spoiled My Boy." Prof. S. C. Hartman gave a splendid address on "Educational Problems." Mr. Gunnett, president of the Dry Federation of Orange county made a few remarks, telling of the progress that is being made in Orange county. The meeting closed by singing "The Fight is On."

A very delightful meeting was held in the evening in the Fremont school auditorium, where the people had the privilege of listening to one of the best entertainments ever given in Anaheim. The large auditorium was packed to more than its seating capacity, many people standing through the entrance. The talented artists were Miss Margery McKee, the famous whistling soloist; little Miss

SPANISH WORKERS MEET

Music and Social Time Followed Opening of Convention That Will Last Three Days

The seventh convention of the Southern California Inter-denominational Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies among the Spanish-speaking people opened last night at the Spanish church on First and Garfield street, to continue during August 13-16. The church was crowded and the program was opened at 7:30 o'clock with registered delegates to the number of thirty-five from the various Spanish churches, the denominations represented being the Congregational, Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian. There were also many American workers present and the pastors of Spanish churches of Los Angeles, Santa Paula, Corona, Redlands, San Diego and Santa Ana, with Rev. A. C. Gonzales of Santa Ana presiding over the convention. An address of welcome was made by Overlin Rodriguez with response by Benjamin Urquidí of Los Angeles. Special music for the evening included two welcome songs written especially for the convention and sung by a chorus of fifteen. A son of Rev. Mr. Gonzales on the violin, another Spanish-speaking lad with the flute, with Miss Easton at the piano, played an instrumental trio most pleasingly.

PERKINS-WHEELER

Well-Known Santa Ana Man Weds in Long Beach—Bride is Resident of Orange

A wedding of much interest here and in Orange was that announced this morning, the principals in the matrimonial affair being Alfred J. Perkins of 1102 French street, Santa Ana, to Miss Amanda Mabel Wheeler of Orange. The marriage took place at Long Beach yesterday, and the evening service was read by Rev. Charles H. Seccombe, former pastor of the First Congregational Church of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins will visit the various beaches for ten days before returning to this city, where they will reside. Mr. Perkins is a well-known citizen of Santa Ana, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Perkins of New York. He is a man of fine literary and travel, and has toured the world at least once, possibly twice. He is a member of the Sierra Club of Southern California and a member of several leading literary clubs of Santa Ana.

The bride is the sister of John Wheeler of Orange, a widely-known man. The bride probably has a much wider acquaintance in Orange than in this city but will be otherwise recognized as a warm welcome on the home-coming of Mr. and Mrs. Perkins.

Appreciated His Playing

The following extract from "The Courier" of Berkeley, August 8, relative to participation of Mr. C. A. Gustlin in the final concert given by the summer session of the University of California, will be of interest to his many friends:

"The piano numbers of Mr. Gustlin of Southern California were particularly appreciated. He played the 'Scherzo' Op. 4, of Brahms beautifully, and although no encores were supposed to be given on account of the length of the program the audience could not be satisfied till he played Liszt's 'Liebestraum.' He played with splendid freedom, authoritatively and sympathetically, and the response of the audience to his genius was very delightful, and peculiarly gratifying to lovers of piano music and of the splendid literature of that instrument which only needs adequate interpretation to be universally enjoyed."

CARD OF THANKS

I wish hereby to express my hearty appreciation of the assistance rendered during the work of erecting the monument to Father Serra at the mission, by Paul Pryor and John O'Sullivan.

William Farnum in "The Redemption of David Corson," to Be Seen at the Temple Theater Saturday and Sunday, This Week.

AMUSEMENTS

TEMPLE THEATER

Synopsis David Corson, Quaker, recluse and mystic, possessed of strong spiritual powers, walked with God and lived in an ethereal world of purity and sanctity. Guided by heavenly visions, with a power of logic and a beauty of voice and manner capable of swaying the emotions and passions of men, David was a mighty force in the quiet little Quaker community, in which he had spent all his life. Then the woman came—and Satan came also—and the world calling his youth and its idle energies. In a moment of supreme test, he threw his wonderful faith aside, like a discarded garment, and entered the great world that beckoned to him.

Dr. Paracelsus Aesculapius was a traveling quack—a fakir. In his wanderings he had found Peepeta, a magnetic Spanish beauty, whom a band of Gypsies had stolen as a baby. Paracelsus had bought Peepeta from the Gypsies, taking her with him as his wife; and Peepeta was the woman who came into David's quiet life, changing all the course of its destiny.

Passing through David's town, Dr. Paracelsus heard of the young Quaker's wonderful oratorical gifts, and at once realized his value in the selling of fake medicines. The crafty doctor lured David with fabulous promises of wealth and pleasure. But, meantime, Peepeta and David had looked into each other's eyes—and so David consented to go with the doctor.

Gradually, the love between David and Peepeta exceeded human bounds, escaped beyond their control, and they followed the trail of the serpent. David urged her to flee with him, and the woman heeded and went with him to distant parts. The doctor followed them with furious vindictiveness, overtook them, and in a fierce struggle was left by David for dead. Tortured by the memory of having murdered the man who had befriended him, struggling against overwhelming elemental passions, David now cast all restraint aside and loosened the floodgates of vice and depravity. He became a drunkard and a gambler, and descended into the dregs. The gentle Peepeta, who had watched his degeneration with a breaking heart, could no longer tolerate him, and she left him in his desperate weakness, seeling the woman for whom he had risked his soul drift from him, and about to sink into the abyss of sin and shame, with the waters of oblivion ready to engulf him—it was then that he met the doctor, blind, old and weak, and living only for vengeance. The sight of the doctor was the turning point in David's downward career; it restored his normal balance; it offered a chance for expiation and restitution. He told the doctor what he was, and with a wild fury beneath his atterd clothes, struck at David. In a scene of terrific repression, David waited for the impending blow, making no effort to escape or overcome his weak antagonist. The doctor's thrust missed and he fell to the floor, where a moment later he died. David's escape from the pursuing Nemesis nerved him to a final and sublime rally, and, guided by the Divine light, he heard the harbor of peace. A storm-racked soul, by the victorious spirit in command. He sought Peepeta, and, purified and redeemed, he found in the woman he sought to destroy a strong spiritual ally and an inspiring factor in his final regeneration.

"The Escape" Do you know, this is a convenient age? If you haven't time to look into the timely topics of the day you may run over to the corner in the evening and see anything timely in motion pictures.

There's the war with Mexico, or rather the war in Mexico, with which we are more or less familiar on a account of life pictures which we have seen.

If you are too busy to look into the matter of eugenics, the movie folks are timely enough to come forward with a picture that will interest you, for "The Escape" will be presented at Clunie's Theater next Monday, August 17.

Further than that it is a Griffith picture. The next time you get your pay envelope you might just think that D. W. Griffith gets $100,000 per year salary, a trifle more than the President of these United States.

Now, why does Mr. Griffith get this enormous salary? I will tell you in a few words—because he is worth it. The reason you get that small salary is because you are not worth any more. There is no sentiment in business nor sympathy at a bank and you may be sure the people who hand Mr. Griffith his pay envelope know what they are doing.

Sometimes careless press agents mention Mr. D. W. Griffith as the "so-and-so of the movies." Mr. Griffith is in a class by himself. He can't be mentioned in the same breath with anyone else, because no one can touch him in his own profession and the legitimate stage is not in the class with the silent drama.

There are lots of people in this world who would get more salary if they paid attention to detail. A Griffith picture is complete in detail. Details are little things and little things make or mar a great picture.

If you have enough money left over from your salary, spend a little of it on "The Escape," not because of the subject, not because of the picture, but because the man who produced it gets $100,000 a year salary, and is worth it.

CAN REACH LAGUNA BY EL TORO ROAD

Information was telephoned here this morning to the effect that the road to Laguna Beach is now open through Laguna Canyon. Going from here by El Toro main road, turn about a block this side of El Toro and cut through to Laguna Canyon, using about three miles of the new paved road. The trip to Laguna from Santa Ana can be made over this route in about an hour and a quarter, making a short and delightful ride to that favorite beach.

AMERICANS BATTLE AGAINST FOREIGN CUP CHALLENGERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Thirteen thousand persons today saw Wilding and Brooks of Australasia, meet McLoughlin and Bundy, the Americans, in a tennis doubles match in the series for the Davis cup. The Australasians took the first two sets, six three, eight six.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Interest in the outcome of the Davis tennis cup matches was even greater today than yesterday, when play first started yesterday. Again this afternoon the stands were packed long before play began, and there were several hundred who were unable to gain admittance to the West Side Tennis Club's courts.

DOWAGER EMPRESS ILL BERNE (via Paris), Aug. 14.—The dowager empress, Maria Feodorovna of Russia, has arrived here seriously ill, and it is stated will undergo a surgical operation.

AUSTRIAN MERCHANTMAN SINKS TRIESTE, Aug. 14.—That the Austrian Lloyd merchant steamship Baron Gutsch struck a floating mine off Lussin, Dalmatia, and sank, was officially announced today. Twenty persons perished and 130 were saved.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

WARRANT OUT FOR MAYHEW

Man Who Shot Mexican Stealing Melons Charged With Felony

Today a warrant was issued for the arrest of W. L. Mayhew of Garden Grove on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder. The act upon which the complaint is based is the firing of a shotgun at Chon Banda, a Mexican, who was stealing watermelons from Mayhew's ranch.

Mayhew was at the courthouse yesterday afternoon with Attorney Hunt of Los Angeles, who has a ranch at Garden Grove. It was arranged then that should a warrant be issued, as was considered certain, that Hunt should be notified.

The position of the officers in the case is that the shooting of another man is a matter that should be left to the courts. Banda's wife visited the district attorney's office today, and Deputy District Attorney Eden prepared the complaint.

Banda, who is at the Santa Ana Hospital in charge of the county physician, is doing so well that, unless blood poisoning should set in, he ought to recover rapidly.

Difference to Court
A. A. Franke had a house rented of Roy Peacock, at Laguna Beach. There was a difference of opinion over rent, and after Franke left the house there was a difference over some machinery. Franke struck Peacock, and Peacock had Franke arrested. Today Franke pleaded not guilty to battery, put up $15 bail and is to appear for trial on September 3. Peacock is suing Franke to collect a month's rent.

Accused of Sale
It is expected that a warrant will be issued this afternoon for Alec Ruiz, an Indian who lives near the sugar factories. He was arrested yesterday for attacking Joe Gutierrez, and was bailed out by a rancher for whom he worked. Today Under Sheriff Law unearthed sufficient evidence to warrant the prosecution of Ruiz on a charge of selling liquor.

PHIL KILFOIL OUT ON BAIL—HEALTH IS BAD

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 14.—Philip A. Kilfoil, convicted on a statutory charge made by little Lillian Palmer, a 15-year-old girl, and under sentence of twenty years, was released yesterday from the county jail pending his appeal on bail of $5000. Kilfoil will remain at liberty until his appeal is decided unless he attempts to see or converse with the little Palmer girl or allows her to talk to him.

Through physicians it was shown that further confinement in the county jail would endanger the life of Kilfoil, who suffers from lung trouble and enlargement of the heart.

EMERGENCY CURRENCY LEGISLATION NOT NEEDED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Further emergency currency legislation is unnecessary, according to President Wilson, who yesterday told members of the Federal Reserve Board that the banking system of the country could be organized along safe lines. The president declared that business conditions should be greatly benefited by the organization of the new currency system. It was the president's first meeting with the new board.

ESHLEMAN AND NEYLAN SPEAK AT CORONADO

CORONADO, Aug. 14.—A large meeting in the high school auditorium was addressed here last night on the achievements of Governor Johnson's administration by John M. Eshleman, candidate for lieutenant governor, and John Francis Neylan, president of the State Board of Control. Neylan talked at two day meetings in San Ysidro and Chula Vista.

Eshleman quoted figures to show how the Railroad Commission, of which he is president, has lessened the cost of living by reducing telephone, express, freight, gas and electric rates all over the state, and at the same time showed that business of California had been benefited by state regulation.

"The greatest development in public utility enterprises in California has been since the commission was given control over stock and bond issues of public utilities. In two years and three months applications were made to the commission to issue securities for $398,000,000," he said.

FLORISTS OF NATION MEETING IN THE HUB

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—Florists from all over the country gathered here today when the opening session of the annual convention of the National Florists' Association began. One of the best represented cities of the East was Washington. The delegates from that city began immediately upon arrival here to make a fight for next year's convention. Chicago, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Denver also were prepared to put up a strong bid to get the 1915 meeting.

A number of Santa Ana men are interested in the incorporation of the San Dimas Rock Co., articles of incorporation of which have just been filed with the county clerk of this county. The directors named in the articles are John Cubbon, Wm. F. Lutz, O. L. Halsell and D. N. Kelly of Santa Ana and E. W. Forgy of Los Angeles. The articles state that Santa Ana is to be the principal place of business though the company will operate a quarry and plant at San Dimas. Forgy, who appears as a director, has been interested in paying matters in Santa Ana as attorney for Max L. Huberman, paying contractor. He is a brother of Attorney H. J. Forgy of Santa Ana.

Domit was charged with cruelly starving his horses.

OH, JOHN! HEY, JOHN! LISTEN TO THIS ONE

EATON, Ind., Aug. 14.—John's day was celebrated today at Riverside Park. The surest way for a well-intentioned millionaire to find himself broke was to rent a megaphone and shout "Have a drink, John?" Hundreds of Johns would have answered him and they would have led hundreds more little Johnnies up to the pop emporium and whet their thirst. Probably never in the history of the country were so many Johns gathered together in one spot. The John's Day idea originated with a group of Eaton residents whose wives call them to breakfast by carolling their name. Last year the Johns and their families numbered 6,000 persons and word from surrounding cities indicated that this year's crowd would be as large.

Representative John A. M. Adair of Portland, Ind., was one of the speakers who was to jolly the other Johns late this afternoon. There were loads of prizes for the fattest John, the slimmest John, the oldest and youngest John and the most handsome and ugliest Johns.

WILSON OPPOSES FOREIGN LOANS

President Discourages Raising of Millions in U. S. for Warring Nations

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—J. P. Morgan & Company have inquired of the State Department what the United States government's attitude would be toward a French war loan of several hundred millions to be floated in this country.

It is also understood that certain financial houses have approached the government with a view to ascertaining its attitude toward an Austrian loan for an unnamed amount.

The possibility of stirring up ill feeling among the numerous bodies of citizens in the United States of particular sympathies in the European war is regarded by the president as a potent reason for discouraging the floating of such loans. "By preserving strict neutrality to the letter, he believes the position of the United States will be most secure in the present emergency and less likely to leave ill effects after the war is over."

CONSERVATION OF WATER AND PROTECTION FROM FLOODS IN SANTA ANA RIVER VALLEY

By W. E. PEDLEY, C. E.

CONSERVATION OF WATER BY SPREADING ON GRAVELS

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Tri-County Reformation Committee:

In a recent address to the Los Angeles Realty Board I set out the principal points in my argument that it is possible to use the spreading system to prevent floods, as well as to save water, and that it will cost five million dollars less than to make channels. As I mailed marked copies of either the "Examiner" or the "Tribune," containing complete reports, to all the members of this committee, I will not go over that ground again, except to briefly summarize, and introduce some additional particulars. I pointed out that because the San Gabriel river starts out from the hills with a grade of seventy feet to the mile, but flattens out so that it only has a fall of four feet to the mile for the last five miles before reaching the sea, it is quite impossible for it to carry its gravel and boulders down to the ocean; if all the flood water be taken into the channel, then all the gravel and boulders, which the waters bring, must necessarily be taken also, and as there is not grade enough to carry them to the sea, they must be deposited in the channel; the sand and silt lodges behind them, the channel fills up, and the floods pour over on to the adjoining property.

Then suppose the attempt be made to start such a channel from the lower end of the boulder wash; the difficulty there is that it is not known whether the flood channel will be at the east side, the west side, or in the middle of the wash. The lower end of the San Gabriel wash is more than a mile wide, with over twenty old channels, any one of which is liable to be the main channel at any time. Lower still, in the neighborhood of El Monte, the main stream is now in the Rio Hondo as much as four miles west of the old main channel, while nearer still to the ocean, ninety per cent of the water is now running into the Los Angeles river, and thence into San Pedro Bay, while the old channel of the San Gabriel runs into Alamitos Bay, about eight miles easterly. F. H. Olmsted, in his report to the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county, notes that prior to 1870 no bridge was required west of El Monte, whereas today the main stream is on that side. These facts show that the construction, or improvement of a channel for the floods, is bristled with difficulties, most of which are traceable to the enormous quantity of boulders, gravel, sand, and silt which the floods bring from the mountains.

At every change of grade in the channel, as it becomes flatter, some portion of the debris is left behind, because the water cannot carry it any further, hence the tendency to fill up the channel bed, not only among the gravel and boulders, but all the way down to the sea. In his report of October, 1913, Mr. F. H. Olmsted states that the waterway under the Salt Lake railroad bridge, southwest of Downey, has filled up in two seasons, so that where two years earlier there were six feet of clearance, in 1913 there were only four; today the silt is up level with the stringers of the bridge. In flood times the water spreads on both sides of the channel and deposits its sand and silt, so that, in its natural state, the adjacent land as well as the bed of the stream, is constantly rising, and the channel eventually changes to lower land.

The San Gabriel river is bridged in thirteen places by steam or electric railroads, and by numerous highway bridges, so that when it does change, the expense will be enormous, to say nothing of the dislocation of travel and trade.

If it were possible to carry the debris to the sea the construction of the last five miles of channel must necessarily be enormously expensive.

In order to discharge into the sea the bed of the channel must be above high tide level, otherwise the tide will back up into the channel, check the flow, and cause a deposit of silt in the channel; once a deposit starts, the dead water back of the deposit silts up, and the silting extends upstream.

In Alamitos Bay, San Pedro Harbor, and at the mouth of the Santa Ana, the high tide level reaches inland about two to two and a half miles, so that, if the grade of the channel to be constructed be four feet to the mile, the bed of the channel, at the northerly edge of the marsh land, must be at least eight feet above the ground level, making the cost very heavy on account of the extreme height of the banks, and this must extend some miles inland until the grade shall meet the ground level.

Then assuming that the stream could be made to discharge into the sea, in my opinion it would quickly form a shoal and block itself up.

Col. Holabird, receiver of the California Development Company, testified in court a short time ago, that the Colorado river in flood carries three per cent silt, although its grade and velocity are much lower than those of the San Gabriel river; yet if the latter carries 3 per cent of debris, it will bring, in flood, forty-eight thousand cubic yards per hour, enough to cover seventy acres ten feet deep in twenty-four hours. With this heavily laden stream meeting an incoming tide, I do not believe that the debris would be carried away; I think it would bank up and soon close the mouth of the channel. My conclusions are, first, that it is not possible in Southern California to make a new channel, or to improve an old one, so as to permanently carry the floods to

Probable Solution of Serious Problem

* The problem of conserving the waters of the Santa Ana river, and at the same time and by the same means protecting the lowlands of the Santa Ana valley, along the river's course or courses, from overflow, is one of the most vital of all the problems of a material nature with which Orange county has to deal.

* In view of that fact the address of W. E. Pedley, C. E., before the Tri-County Reformation Committee, at Huntington Beach, is of great interest and importance, and the same is herewith published in full.

* In answer to a letter from the editor of the Register, asking what, if anything, was being done, or is likely to be done, to effectuate the suggestions contained in Mr. Pedley's address, Francis Cuttle, president of the Tri-County Reformation Committee, writes from Riverside as follows:

* There can be no doubt of the great benefit that will accrue to all those dependent on the San Bernardino watershed when the flood waters are prevented from running down the river to waste in the sea, doing damage instead of good en route. The people in this part of the country are enthusiastic about extending the work as outlined by Mr. Pedley; a reconnaissance has already been made by Mr. Pedley, Mr. Kellogg, Mr. Wilson, Mr. George and the writer, of two dam sites, surveys will be begun within the next ten days, and a report of all of the details made to the general committee at the next meeting of the Tri-County Reformation Committee, which meets at San Bernardino in October. Should the plans be approved, it is proposed immediately to construct the dams so that a much increased volume of water will be diverted and conserved during the winter of 1914-15.

* The sea, unless the debris be first eliminated; secondly, that the difference between the cost of constructing channels to get rid of the water, and constructing absorption works to retain it, will be at least five million dollars for Los Angeles county, while the capital value of the water saved would be at least five millions more, so that the choice of methods will make a difference of ten million dollars to the taxpayer. That, gentlemen, is a summary of my remarks to the Realty Board, the principles being applicable to the Santa Ana river.

* We, of the San Bernardino Valley, were the pioneers in the water spreading movement, but practically we have not advanced much in the last ten years; we are on a more solid basis, because we own much of the spreading ground, and our diversion works are more solidly constructed, but we are using the same plan that we began with, and on about the same scale; in 1905, Mr. Mylne, engineer of the Gage Canal Company, acting for the Association of Water Companies, spread a maximum of 30,000 inches, and we are not doing any better today; we are letting the heavy floods go by, so that, as flood protection, our work is valueless, and we lose at such times enormous quantities of valuable water.

* There are about 7000 acres of gravel and boulder wash in the San Bernardino Valley.

* The maximum flood of the Santa Ana river measured by the United States government at Mentone is 245,000 inches, and the Mill Creek, 60,000 inches. Including the other streams, probably 400,000 inches would represent the maximum flood, which is about one-fifth of what could be absorbed in the valley at the rate of 250 inches to the acre of wash, 250 inches to the acre being the quantity sunk by Kingsbury Sanborn at San Jacinto; it is about one-seventh of what might be absorbed according to an experiment made by me in the City Creek wash, which is rather more porous and open than the San Jacinto river wash.

* In order to safely control floods it is not at all necessary to sink all of the water; probably 60 per cent of the floods could be taken care of in the natural channels, so that if we could absorb 40 per cent, and hold back the bulk of the traveling debris, the problem would be solved.

* There is not the slightest doubt that if necessary and desirable, every drop could be absorbed in the San Bernardino valley, provided the requisite irrigation system could be constructed; figures show that we could take care of five times the maximum, whereas we only need to dispose of 40 per cent of it; in order to control floods it is only need to sink about one-twelfth of only need to sink about one-twelfth of what would be, theoretically, possible. The reasons that the floods have been allowed to pass are, I believe, first, that we do not own all of the wash upon which it would be necessary to operate, and, secondly, there is the fear that any obstruction, placed in the river bed to check or direct the flood flow, might turn it in some direction so as to cause damage, or at any rate to be credited with having caused damage.

* With some diffidence, I suggest for the consideration of the legal members of this committee, that the wash is all a part of the bed of the river. My reasons are that the position of the main channel in the wash is variable; sometimes it is on the north side and it flows there until, by the constant deposit of debris, the bed rises so high that the stream in flood breaks over and takes some other lower channel. Also that the courts of this state have decided that the subsurface flow of a river is the underflow at all points between the permanent banks.

* Taking these two facts together, it seems to me difficult to reach any other conclusion than that the entire wash, over which the river wanders at pleasure, is legally its bed.

* Any properly constituted authority, having charge of the improvement of a river, must certainly have powers to construct such works, and do such things, as may be necessary, within the river bed; if we have not that authority, then the sooner that is remedied the better, and if we have it, I think we could spread water anywhere in the wash, so long as it did not do damage.

* The fear of damage suits rests mainly upon the supposition that a very large body of water may be turned in some direction which may prove dangerous to somebody, but it is fully realized that, once spread, the water will be entirely absorbed, and no large volume of water will be left which can do any harm, I think that fear should die a natural death.

* As a matter of fact the southerly bank of the wash is a high bluff for eight miles, and even if we deliberately tried, I doubt if we could do any harm on that side, while nearly all the valuable property on the northerly side is well upon the slope and the tendency of floods always is to gravitate to the low lands, so that the risk in the easterly six miles of the San Bernardino Valley is very small.

* It is in my opinion entirely feasible and practically safe to operate there on a much larger scale than we are doing at present, to save vastly more water, and to partially or entirely control the floods according to the scale of our operations. To this end I suggest that it would be possible to make a good beginning, and minimize risks of possible damage suits by only handling the floods on the east side of the Santa Fe railroad.

* The wash is a mile and an eighth wide, where the railroad crosses it, and there are six bridge openings aggregating 1387 feet; if the maximum flood were spread evenly over the 1387 feet, it would be scarcely more than a foot deep. So long as the water comes through these openings it would be impossible to pretend that we were responsible for any damage which might happen west of the railroad, so that our responsibility would be confined to quite narrow limits within which there is no property to damage except the railroad, the canals, the roads, a wooden shed containing, I believe, a pumping plant and a house belonging to the Bear Valley Mutual Water Company, occupied by their janitor.

* The danger to the railroad would be reduced, because, owing to the spreading of the water, much would be absorbed, before reaching the line and, being divided into many streams, it would be far less dangerous than if all were united in one powerful torrent, as has usually been the case in the past; I do not propose that we do anything within three-quarters of a mile of the line, and below the lowest proposed dam the overflowing water will inevitably concentrate into the channels, all of which are already bridged.

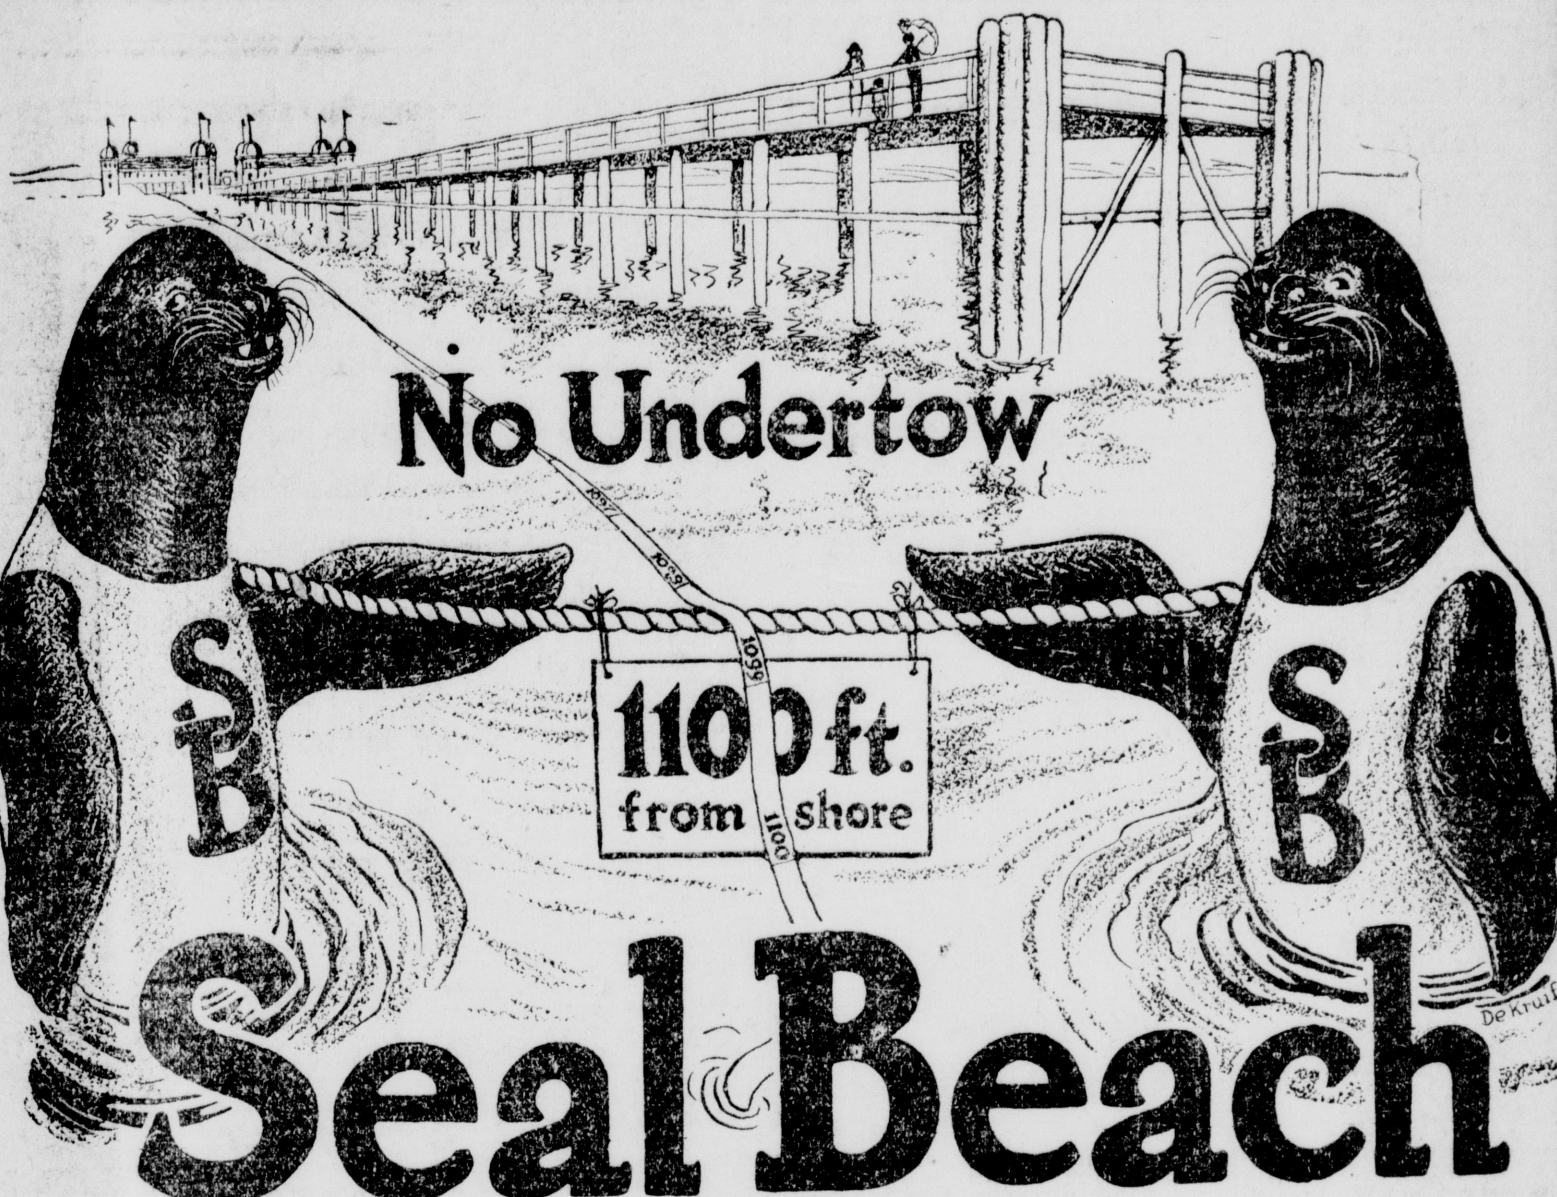

* I do not propose to do anything at or near the North Fork Redlands canal division box; nothing nearer than half a mile, and on the lower side. Except for a short distance near the mouth, the North Fork canal and road on the north side are out of any possible danger; the Redlands canal and road on the south side of the wash are already washed away for some hundreds of feet, and the current now sets against a high gravel cliff at the mouth of Morton Canyon. This road is in a broad low channel next the bluff, probably ten feet below the average bed of the boulder wash, which is liable, and indeed is extremely likely, at any time to flood over into it; it was badly washed out from local streams, and has recently been repaired by the janitor's house, but is immediately near the canyon mouth; it is already useless in winter, and in great danger of total destruction; it is only a track in a sand wash with no bridges or permanent works of any kind, so that there is really nothing much to injure.

* The janitor's house is on a slight elevation about ten feet above the bed of the channel, occupied by the road, but probably lower than the bed of the flood channel now opposite it; it could be moved higher up onto the bank, if the necessity arose.

* The pumping plant is not used in the winter and would be protected from flood damage if there were any bridges; hence, I say that the proposed works cannot cause any serious damage, because, within the area affected, there is nothing of much value to be hurt.

* I advise the construction of a boulder dam enclosed in a wire net bag, averaging about three feet in height, from the end of the bluff on the south-west side of Mill Creek, and running slightly west of north for a distance of about a mile, at an elevation of about 1720 feet; even in flood the water will only overflow this long dam a few inches deep, and the effect will be to back the water up in a wide sheet above the dam, and to spread it into many small channels below.

* If all the water should reach this dam in one channel, the overflow would not be even, but would be great where the water strikes it, unless the top level of the dam were graded to suit. But I suggest that at an elevation of about 1800 feet, another comparatively short dam be built stretching from about the mouth of our first diverting ditch across to below the fish wheel of the Redlands canal at a point where the canal is high enough on the south bank to be safe. This dam would force some water to flow into five or six divergent old channels so that the flood would strike No. 2 dam at many different points, and thus render the overflow more nearly even; it should be made somewhat lower at the northerly end so that more of the Santa Ana river water be directed northerly for the reason that at the next lower dam, the floor of Mill Creek will all come in at the extreme southerly end, and it is desirable to even up the combined flow over No. 2 dam. These two dams, and the necessary work on the channels between and below them with a crew of men spreading during the floods so as to irrigate the wash as efficiently and as extensively as possible, would cost, I estimate, $7500, and would probably sink about 40 per cent of the flood flow of the Santa Ana and Mill Creek, perhaps not in the first year, but soon as the debris has filled in part of the deeper channels, so that the water can be flooded over 300 acres.

* To irrigate the entire wash would be at first very expensive, because it is torn up with deep channels with ridges in between, and it would be practically impossible to get the water up onto these ridges, so that I estimate that at first not more than one-fifth of the wash could be covered at a moderate cost.

* Of course the wash could all be levelled, but the proper economic course is to make the river level its own wash, by forcing it to deposit its debris in the channels, and thus bring them up to the level of the ridges, and in this way it would each year become more and more easily irrigable, and the area over which the water spreads would increase. The effect of spreading the water more evenly, so that some water passes through each one of the railroad bridges, will also have a considerable effect upon the absorption of the washes west of the railroad, because it frequently now happens that the whole flood passes through one or two bridges only; especially if the spreading crew should help by working for half a mile west, if we can add a hundred thousand inches for one day to the underground reservoirs, it is good for 500 inches for the whole of the next pumping season, and how much damage that 100,000 inches would have done had it been permitted to rush towards the sea, is very hard to estimate, and depends, of course, upon the size of the flood. To make sure of absorbing 40 per cent perhaps one other dam should be made running nearly due north and south across the wash, slightly east of the center of section 7, township 1 south, range 1 west, costing about $5000. To sink every drop of water, would probably require about eight more dams, and the expenditure of about $60,000.

* The question of making Lytle Creek and Cajon Creek absorb their own floods is now under consideration, and should the movement become general, it will solve the present very difficult question of how to abate flood conditions on the Santa Ana south of Olive, but it will perhaps introduce another by lowering the water plane in Orange county, and therefore I repeat here a suggestion I have made formerly, and that is from 1000 to 2000 inches can be easily added to the irrigation supply of Orange county by running 3000 to 5000 inches during the winter through the Riverside Water Company's canal into the Corona wash; all wells stands at a normal height, being drawn from Warm Creek, and that we spread and sink all of the storm water within a mile of the canyon. The water so sunk into the gravels will travel down-stream, and after a time will raise the water level in a well situated say a quarter of a mile below the lowest spreading point; then after another interval there will be a rise in the next well down-stream; the interval will be a measure of the time the water took to travel, as it travels down the wash, and in this way its rate of progression may be determined.

* It may be necessary to supplement the existing wells by sinking one or more shafts; these can be done in the fall, when the water level is low, so that they may be sunk as dry holes.

* When once the speed of underground travel has been ascertained, their usefulness for that purpose would be ended, but they could be used to absorb the flood water by running streams into them during the winter.

* In conclusion I would say that the maintenance of the system will involve not only the services of a spreading crew, but at intervals the dams will have to be raised to retain the debris, and in the long run the wash will be changed into a succession of gigantic steps, with wide stretches of flat, and more level wash in between, upon which the spreading crew can work, because the water will never be more than a foot deep, usually only a few inches, and will not have any very great velocity; most of the destructive power of the water will be absorbed at the drops over the dams.

* This hypothetical case makes the theory clear, as it is plain that if the spreading be done too far above the point of use, the water will not arrive until too late, and will drain away during the winter, while if too close to the point of use, the water may only increase the flow at a time when the supply is already over-abundant.

* The practical application of this theory is difficult, because we do not know how fast the water travels underground. I suggest, however, that exact readings of the water levels in a string of wells, for instance in Lytle Creek wash, would give the necessary information for that part of that stream.

* Assume that a rain storm should come on during next November, after all pumping plants have ceased to operate for a month, and the water in all wells stands at a normal height, and that we spread and sink all of the storm water within a mile of the canyon. The water so sunk into the gravels will travel down-stream, and after a time will raise the water level in a well situated say a quarter of a mile below the lowest spreading point; then after another interval there will be a rise in the next well down-stream; the interval will be a measure of the time the water took to travel, as it travels down the wash, and in this way its rate of progression may be determined.

* It may be necessary to supplement the existing wells by sinking one or more shafts; these can be done in the fall, when the water level is low, so that they may be sunk as dry holes.

* When once the speed of underground travel has been ascertained, their usefulness for that purpose would be ended, but they could be used to absorb the flood water by running streams into them during the winter.

* For instance, let us assume that we have ascertained that the water travels underground in Lytle Creek at the rate of a mile in two months; at what rate of a mile in the Fontana Company points should the spreading work in each month, from October to March, in order to derive the greatest benefit?

* The natural supply does not need reinforcement in May and June.

* Under the circumstances assumed, flood water, spread during the month of October, from 3½ to 5 miles above at the drops over the dams.

WILL DEDICATE THEIR NEW HOME

Reorganized Church People Announce Program for Dedication Sunday

The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, having completed their modest little church at the corner of Fifth and Flower streets, will occupy it for the first time next Sunday, August 16. A very interesting program has been arranged for their opening.

The entire day will be devoted to various exercises. Sunday school will convene at 9:45 a. m., followed by services at 11 a. m. This part of the program will consist of two short lectures; one, by Rev. J. W. McDowell of Los Angeles, setting forth the differences between this organization and the Salt Lake faction; the other by Rev. F. M. Sheehy of Independence, Mo., who will discourse upon the "Epitome of Our Faith." The purpose of these lectures is to disabuse the minds of the people of the incorrect idea that so many have in regard to the two churches, often confounding the Reorganization with that of the Salt Lake people who were led off by Brigham Young in the early history of the church, and to give the people the correct idea of what we believe.

A basket lunch will be served in the basement of the church at 12 m., followed by services at 2 p. m.

At 6:45 p. m. Young People's meeting will be held, consisting of musical and educational exercises.

Preaching will be held at 7:45 p. m. Special music has been arranged for the occasion. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Summer Constipation Dangerous
Constipation in Summer time is more dangerous than in the fall, winter or spring. The food you eat is often contaminated and is more likely to ferment in your stomach. Then you are apt to drink much cold water during the hot weather, thus injuring your stomach. Colic, Fever, Typhoid, Poisoning, and other ills are natural results. Po-Do-Lax will keep you well, as it increases the bile, the natural laxative, which rids the bowels of the congested poisonous waste. Po-Do-Lax will make you feel better. Pleasant and effective. Take a dose to-night. 50c at your Druggist.—Advertisement.

CELERY GROWERS FINISHING PLANTING

Splendid Season Seems Assured; 800 Acres in County This Year

ASSOCIATION HAS NEARLY 600 ACRES

No Information as Yet Regarding Season's Prices

Celery growers throughout the county are now engaged in finishing up the season's planting. The outlook for a splendid season is extremely favorable. Weather conditions so far have been ideal and barring setbacks the growers should reap a splendid harvest.

Transplanting began about June 26. To pull the plants, trim the tops and roots and re-plant the celery in the fields required the services of about

SPLENDID APPLES GROWN ON RANCH IN SANTA ANA

J. W. Freeman, manager of the C. S. Forgy apple orchard on McPadden street, east of the Pacific Electric railway tracks, has brought to the Chamber of Commerce for exhibition a number of splendid specimens of apples grown on the Forgy ranch. There are two varieties, Maiden Blush and Rhode Island Greening. One of the Maiden Blush apples measures 13 inches in circumference. All the specimens are clean, smooth and absolutely without defects.

Freeman said that from the six-acre orchard he expected to harvest from ten to twelve tons of apples. The trees are six years old. The results obtained by Freeman are striking examples of what can be accomplished in the apple-growing line in Orange county provided the trees are properly cared for. Spraying is one of the prime necessities for successful apple culture, Freeman says.

200 men, 800 acres being the estimated total acreage of celery this year. Except in very few localities the young plants will not need irrigation until in September and October.

The Celery Growers' Association, with headquarters at Smeltzer, will put out nearly 600 acres of the plants this season. The Golden West Celery & Produce Company, near Smeltzer, will have the largest acreage of any of the growers.

As concerns prices, C. C. Johnson of the Celery Growers' Association, said today that the association had not yet obtained any data as to acreage and conditions in the east and that it is therefore too early to vouchsafe any prediction as to what this season's markets will be.

MOST ORNATE FIXTURES TO GO IN STORE

The design of the interior fixtures of the White Cross drug store, which will occupy the store room at the corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets in the new Spurgeon Realty building, is the most handsome and ornate of any drug store between Los Angeles and San Diego. The details and drawings have been made by Elwing & Tedford, the local architects. The designers have received many compliments from the manufacturers of the fixtures on the beauty and originality of the designs.

The scheme used throughout is one of mahogany and white enamel and will be one of the most striking used in the design of any store in Southern California. Perhaps the first feature to arrest the eye of one entering this handsome store will be the soda fountain, which will occupy the west wall nearest Fourth street. Both a and a wrapping and a prescription counter will occupy the remainder of the space along the west and immediately north of the prescription room.

The locations of the various show cases have been provided for in order not to disturb the harmony of the general design. The show windows facing Sycamore street will be backed by heavy velvet curtains. White crosses have been artistically worked into the leaded glass and light effects in all of the fixtures. An indirect lighting system will be used. The White Cross store will be one of the few stores in Santa Ana having a tile floor.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—Advertisement.

UNVEILING OF STATUE OF PADRE JUNIPERO SERRA IS WITNESSED BY MANY PEOPLE

Erected by Father O'Sullivan, Priest in Charge of Mission San Juan Capistrano

SANTA ANA, Aug. 14.—Yesterday there occurred here the unveiling of the statue of Fray Junipero Serra, greatest of the Franciscan padres.

It was an impressive affair, the unveiling taking place in the presence of a gathering of people from far and near.

Before the mass a procession of school children marched about the grounds of the mission plaza. The figure of the beloved father stands with a protecting hand about the shoulder of an Indian boy, whose face, expressive of spiritual hope, is turned upward toward a cross to which the father points. Dropping from the boy's hand is a bow and arrow. The arrangement of the figure was conceived by the artist and a working model for the figure was made in the dining room of the old mission.

The material for the modeling was found on the Camino Real, over which Junipero Serra trod in his pilgrimages up and down the coast. The model for the boy shown in the group was made by the last San Juaneno Indian who carved and strung the bow a few weeks before his recent death. The lines of the statue of Father Serra were taken from a picture found in the college of San Fernando in Mexico.

The interest which the erection of the figure has stimulated throughout the state was actively expressed in the attendance of hundreds of Catholics from all parts of the south, and the rare occasion attracted many others interested in the substantial remembrance of the man who devoted his life to the Indians of California. The erection of this statue has long

DRAWING REVISED PLANS FOR $3,500 BROADWAY HOME

Architects Eley & Hawley are at work upon a revised set of plans for a residence for F. W. Harding, to be built at the corner of Twentieth and Broadway, this city. The residence will cost about $3500 and will be of the two-story, aeroplane type of chalet. On the first floor there will be five rooms, bath and a screen porch, with a large porch on the front and one side. A somewhat unusual feature will be that a cobbles-tone finish will be used on the porch piers and on the fireplace and chimney. The fireplace will be in the den, which together with the living and dining rooms will have hardwood floors. The second floor will be devoted to sleeping rooms. Windows on three sides of all the upstairs rooms will make them practically outdoor sleeping rooms.

BEGINS WORK ON NEW FLAT BUILDING

Work has been started by J. R. Carey on a twelve-room flat building and garage at 417-419 Parton street. The building will contain four modern three-room flats, fitted with all the latest built-in features. The building will be ready for occupancy October 1. Fred Siefert is the contractor.

HARPER SECTION IS GOING AHEAD FAST

Newport News: Apples, peaches, pears, plums, berries and walnuts are a good crop on the mesa this year. With the lemon and orange planting this year there will soon be quite a variety of fruits so that a cannery and fruit exchange located at Harper will be needed to promote the interests of this growing community.

A FINE RESIDENCE

Newport News: One of the finest houses in the city is the one just erected by Goodell and Jumper for P. S. Brown and his sister, Mrs. Paul, on the bay front at the lower end of the city. The house is large and commands a fine view of Newport Bay. The interior is finished in hardwood and the house is beautifully furnished. The living room extends clear to the roof of the house, which is a full two stories. The rooms on the second floor open out to a hall which runs around the open space, giving a unique effect.

BIG DAIRY FARM NEAR PAULARINO

A. C. Black has the contract for the erection of a barn 32 by 240 feet on the C. R. Heil ranch property between the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric tracks near Paularino. This barn will be one of several which Heil will build as a part of a thoroughly modern and up-to-date dairy farm on his ranch which now contains, owing to his having purchased an additional 40 acres, a total of 160 acres.

Other buildings will be a two-story house and several cottages for the housing of the men who will be employed on the ranch. A cold storage plant is another improvement which will be installed in the near future. There will be 200 cows on the Heil dairy. Nothing will be left undone to make this wholesale milk plant the most sanitary and modern possible.

New City Hall
Stanton Optimist: With the erection of a city hall in Stanton the outlook for the city takes on an added certainty. The new building will be completed in a short time, it is expected.

This will make place for other improvements of a substantial nature. There has been talk of a bank, and it is not at all impossible that a bank will be established.

in our store, not only in the class of goods we carry but in the arrangement of the fixtures and the convenience with which we display our stock. However, as many of you know, we have been crowded for space. To relieve the condition and make room for new lines we arranged with our landlord for additional room, and during the past six weeks we have completed this work. With this addition of two floors and basement, we now have a main store room 25x100 feet, an up-stairs room 25x55 feet, and a good basement under the rear. This means for us a large well lighted conveniently arranged store, it means for you a larger stock and better service, and it means for Santa Ana a progressive up-to-date hardware store that is a credit to the city.

BIG COMPANY TO FURNISH FILMS FOR CHURCHES AND SCHOOLS

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—One of the biggest religious and educational movements in the history of this country is now comfortably housed at No. 18 East 41st street in one of New York's newest office buildings. At its head is the Duke of Manchester and seconding him is Dr. William Carter, former pastor of the Madison avenue Reformed Church and a lecturer of note.

The organization, of which the Duke is the head, is known as the International Education League and he is International Vice President of the Inter-Church Social Service Bureau of which Dr. Carter is president. The two organizations have become allied through a common purpose which is to put motion pictures in the schools, churches and other religious and educational institutions throughout the United States.

The service which these two organizations will give will have been started by the first of October and will cover as wide a field as possible from the first. Later, as the field is enlarged, there will be additions to the service and policy and the serving of 10,000 churches and schools is anticipated as one of the possibilities of the next five years.

The Inter-Church Social Service Bureau has already bought a large number of religious and educational films and will continue to get the best in that line, while the contracts are already drawn for many clean dramas and comedies which will be shown in the weekly program of pictures showing subjects which will embrace religion, travel, sociology, education including especially, stories taken from the Bible.

For the first few months, the Inter-

Church Social Service Bureau will not make any of its own films, but next year will see considerable studio activity on the part of the organization.

The service is to be supplied to churches at very low cost for 5000 feet of film divided into five subjects. This service will include the installation of a screen and a moving picture projecting machine. In the service which will cost more, the Bureau not only will supply these things, but will send an expert operator to the church to install the machine and teach a local member of the church how to run it.

The present plans of the Bureau for making films is about this way. Three companies of actors are to be formed. One will be sent to Palestine to enact Bible stories amid the original scenes which surround the doings of men and women who are told about in Holy Writ. Another company will go to Egypt for the same purpose; and a third company will be sent on a tour of the Mission fields of the world to enact stories written around the Mission work of all denominations. These latter are expected to give those who support the missions a better idea of what is going on there.

As the work is enlarged local companies will be chosen to present domestic and present day drama and comedy which will be used as a part of the Bureau's program each week. Dr. Carter is president of the Bureau; the Duke of Manchester is the International vice president and Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst is vice president.

The advisory board contains the names of many men in high ecclesiastic and educational circles in the United States.

NEW IMPLEMENTS OF WAR THAT ARE BEING USED IN PRESENT EUROPEAN CONFLICT

The British submarine, the German dirigible balloon and the French aeroplane are the new implements of war being used in the great European outbreak. While these have been in existence for some years they have not been as yet thoroughly tested.

A few aeroplanes were used in the Balkan and Mexican wars, but to those people hardly emerged from barbarism and far behind in the march of civilization such modern implements of war were not understood, much less appreciated.

In the tests of airships the Germans have stuck to the dirigible balloon following the lead of Count Zeppelin. The French, who quickly took to flying after the Wright brothers had shown the way, soon distanced the world, and they have carried experiments with the aeroplane much farther than any other nation. While the German army is equipped with a number of dirigibles the French have many aeroplanes.

Experiments have been made by the British with both, but the invention with which they have had the most success is the submarine. They have many in their navy, and this will of course be the opportunity for their use.

some commendation and some criticism from those who were touched on tender spots, and relapsed into the forgotten. But it is apparent that considerable opposition will arise to executing the recommendations.

For example, the commissioner of public property is vigorously kicking against the conclusions of the surveyors regarding the water and light and gas service. Springfield has a municipally owned water system and corporation owned gas and electric services. Now municipal surveys and other reforms are not famous for partiality to private utilities companies and are supposed ordinarily to favor public ownership. Yet the Russell Sage experts found that charges for water service were too high and that electric light and gas charges were reasonable. The only result so far from this publication has been to arouse the commissioner.

The surveyors of the educational system found some fault with the construction of buildings and with courses of study. The architects who raised the buildings protested mildly, while the school principals admitted in the main the justice of the criticism offered. It is expected changes will be made in the curricula, but it is generally thought that while the recommendations regarding buildings may be observed in new structures, no revisions will be made in those now in use. How the rest of the report will be received is a matter of much speculation here. It will be published within a month or two.

Failure of Springfield to adopt the recommendation by no means argues, however, that the work of the experts will come to naught. The information gathered is to be compiled into a booklet and issued by the Russell Sage Foundation as a survey report. It also is to be made part of the report of the Illinois conference of charities and will be read at the annual conference at LaSalle, Ill., in October. The general conclusions of the experts regarding conditions of the city effect upon the life of the people doubtless will have value in every city in the country.

This is not the first survey that has been conducted in the United States

Pittsburg had an industrial survey Birmingham had a religious survey Springfield once had a health survey Several New York cities have had social surveys. But this is the first investigation which has gone into every phase of municipal life, from city council to street sweeper, from church to brothel, from hospital to shallow well. Springfield furnished the funds and the Russell Sage Foundation furnished the investigators for the work.

David O. Becker of the New York bureau of municipal research conducted the survey of municipal efficiency. Much interest is expressed in the report he will make on the commission form of government. Springfield has suffered to some extent, it is generally admitted, from personal discord among the commissioners, and everyone is wondering whether or not Becker will condemn the form on this account or call the case isolated and exceptional.

Francis Schneider, Jr., sanitarian of the R. S. F., conducted the public health survey, investigating water, milk, markets, sewage, hospitals and sanatoria. Dixon Van Blarcome, field secretary of the national anti-tuberculosis society, investigated the white plague in the city. Dr. W. L. Treadway of the Ellis Island detention station, investigated mental hygiene including insanity, deficiency and alcoholism. Delinquency, truancy, prisons and police were investigated by Zena O. Potter, department agent of the R. S. F. Dr. Leonard P. Ayres, division director of the R. S. F., conducted the investigation of schools and education. Lee F. Hammer of the R. S. F. conducted the survey of recreation, including parks, playgrounds, dance halls, movies and theatres.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Advertisement.

LOS ANGELES WOMEN IN MILWAUKEE ARRESTED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 14.—Dr. Inez Decker of Los Angeles, arrested here on a shoplifting charge because she was with a woman, also said to be from Los Angeles, who is booked as having been repeatedly convicted of this offense, proposes to make a vigorous battle for freedom. She was fined $100 and though she had over $1000 in cash with her she refused to pay the fine and appealed the case. She declares the affair is a police frame-up to get the other woman and herself, because they happened to be in the department store when goods disappeared.

Constipation Causes Sickness Don't permit yourself to become constipated, as your system immediately begins to absorb poison from the backed-up waste matter. Use Dr. King's New Life Pills and keep well. There is no better safeguard against illness. Just take one dose tonight. 25c at your Druggist.—Advertisement.

FIRST OFFICIAL SURVEY OF CITY MEETS COLD RECEPTION

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 14.—The first complete municipal survey ever conducted in the United States threatens not to prove satisfactory enough in its conclusions for its recommendations to be adopted by the city surveyed. Springfield, because of indifference or of prejudice among the members of the city commission, probably will be satisfied to allow the exhaustive researches made in its social and industrial life to stand for what they may be to other cities and take only parts home to itself.

Only two sections of the survey made by the Russell Sage foundation have been published. These relate to education and public utilities service. These, appearing in the local papers, were read with interest, provoked
